To the Panel of the COVID-19 Response Inquiry,

As the [REDACTED] of a [REDACTED] in [REDACTED] and with a deep interest in mental health, I am compelled to contribute to this inquiry. My unique position has provided me insight into the multifaceted impact of the pandemic, particularly regarding the government's response.

Our company experienced significant operational disruptions, financial strain, and a marked decline in the mental well-being of our staff due to these issues. The lack of clear communication and perceived ethical lapses in decision-making processes have compounded these difficulties.

The pandemic has highlighted several areas where transparency, ethical practices, and effective communication were critically needed but often lacked. This submission requests a thorough Royal Commission investigation into the following:

- Corrupt Vaccine Procurement and Secret Contracts: Transparency in vaccine procurement processes and the public availability of contract details.
- Mask and Vaccine Mandates: Evaluation of the necessity, effectiveness, and impact of mandates on individual rights and businesses.
- Lockdowns: Analysis of decision-making processes and the socio-economic impacts of lockdowns.
- Misinformation in Media and Public Statements: Investigation into alleged misinformation about vaccine efficacy, especially regarding transmission.
- Vaccine Injuries and Reporting: Adequacy of mechanisms for reporting and addressing vaccine-related injuries.
- Media Censorship and Silencing of Healthcare Professionals: Examination of media practices and the alleged silencing of dissenting medical opinions.
- Role of AHPRA and ATAGI: Scrutiny of these bodies in the censorship and alleged oppression of healthcare professionals.
- Treatment of Victims: Addressing the needs and concerns of those adversely affected by the pandemic response.

Recommendations:

- Transparent and Ethical Governance: Ensure all future contracts and mandates are transparent and ethically formulated.
- Mental Health Support: Establish comprehensive mental health support for businesses and individuals affected by government mandates and misinformation.
- Improved Communication and Accountability: Enhance government communication clarity and accountability in public health messaging and media interactions.

The scope of these concerns demands a Royal Commission to ensure a thorough and unbiased investigation. It is crucial for the well-being of our society and the integrity of our governance that these issues are addressed comprehensively.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
