

I am strongly requesting a robust Royal Commission for an investigation into the now known shocking statistics of excessive Covid-19 vaccine's deaths and injuries. The attached government Covid-19 compensation scheme is in itself enough evidence that the government acknowledges the serious injuries and deaths caused by this vaccine. The population was rigorously urged, mandated (yes, mandated for those who had no option due to job and income loss if they refused), coerced and incentivised without evidence of safety, conclusively evidenced by the known fact that the vaccine was only provisionally approved, meaning it was not properly tested. It was released onto the public with the full knowledge of the risks involved and instead of erring on the side of caution and releasing the truth about the risks, the government instead decided to risk lives. Informed consent protocols were certainly not followed. We are now seeing the eye-watering statistics of this most dangerous vaccine. An investigation is the only option now as the public have the right to understand the truth and the government must take responsibility for the damage that has been done.
