

Firstly I'd like to iterate my dismay that this call for submissions has been kept quiet, then closes a week before Christmas in the busiest time of year. That in itself is a measure of the reluctance of government to investigate their own ineptitude, malfeasance and mismanagement.

In my hurry to produce something of value to the inquiry, here are some highlights I experienced from government mismanagement of covid:

I'd already had and recovered from covid illness in mid-February 2020 that I acquired from treating a sick patient who had returned from overseas, so lockdown was too late and pointless for me as I was already a pillar of natural immunity, which, as we now have discovered, is the only way.

I found out that BICOM bioresonance therapy could cure covid in about a 30 minute session and the TGA responded by banning naturopaths and BICOM from advertising. The TGA worked to suppress any other treatments or immune supportive therapies for covid, because [REDACTED] pharmaceutical companies to provide vaccines. The TGA stopped dentists and doctors from prescribing ivermectin which previously was allowed. There was never any shortage of ivermectin, it was lies.

I got caught out without any toilet paper just as the hoarding started – so there I was waiting in a huge queue at the supermarket at the start of covid, among thousands of others as potential disease vectors, just to buy toilet paper.

Lockdown happened in March 2020, and then people couldn't access routine dental services, or as emergency only. So many problems that required routine maintenance then later on became emergencies and people suffered because they weren't allowed to obtain necessary routine dental care.

Significant loss of income and employment.

Closed beaches, especially in summer, autumn, spring... ridiculous since everyone knows that UV sunlight exposure is essential for Vitamin D formation in skin, which is essential for immune system health.

Lockdowns obviously coinciding with school holidays and expiring emergency orders, was obviously malfeasance to do with maintaining government control.

I found it interesting that rapid antigen tests for covid were available as early as March 2020, and I wondered at how that was possible for a new disease, when it hasn't been possible for existing diseases. It seemed a suspiciously planned scamdemic to me.

The over-cycling of PCR tests to produce false positives also needs further investigation.

I found it laughable that PCR testing of sewage was used to identify covid hotspots. I do not believe that is credible, because there would be all sorts of disease in sewage and there would be cross contamination.

The rapid antigen tests test positive with tap water, orange juice and other contaminants. So that's a bad joke.

Having to nominate one person for visitation during covid was ridiculous since I was still seeing many people daily in the course of providing emergency dental services. Also, that is an invasion of privacy as to whom I may be having contact with.

I had to take my cat to the vet for an emergency during covid. Having to stand outside in the carpark at the vet, in cold weather and pouring rain and having a carpark consultation with the vet, rather than being indoors in a proper clinical environment was utterly ridiculous. This was further discriminated against when vaccine passports hapoened, so then only the unvaccinated had to stay outside. I was glad to [REDACTED]

AHPRA sent out a position statement expecting practitioners to be vaccinated and to repeat the health bureaucracy narrative about these vaccines. They did not highlight that the vaccines were only provisionally approved and they actively discriminated against practitioners who started reporting vaccine injuries and their research findings into stillbirths and miscarriages.

Some girls at work went and got vaccines as soon as they were able to because they wanted to travel, then got locked down anyway, so they couldn't. That was disappointing for them.

[REDACTED] There was no where for me to report that I was having an adverse reaction to medication that others had taken, when I was in contact with them. The mRNA induced spike protein shed by the unfortunate vaccinated, is itself toxic and can affect others.

I went to hospital after sustaining injury and was made to wear a mask although I was having difficulty breathing, which was absolutely ridiculous.

I was afraid to go to hospital because I was worried that they were going to assault me by injecting Covid-19 vaccines without my consent. It was bad enough that I was forced by coercion to do a PCR test in order to be eligible see a Doctor. That was ridiculous since the results wouldn't be back for 4 days anyway.

I was made to wear a mask in hospital after recovering from a general anaesthetic which causes respiratory depression, and breathing difficulties were further exacerbated by wearing a mask.

[REDACTED] That was ridiculous. There was no regard to natural immunity and no measure of natural immunity. This is ridiculous since natural immunity is the only way, and vaccination does harm to natural immunity because it interferes with T-cells [REDACTED]. This is what the vaccinated are now having problems with, causing their relapse and accelerated cancers and mycoplasma pneumonia infections and other infections. There is some 20% excess deaths globally since vaccine rollout, miscarriages and still births too. It's not covid [REDACTED]. The longer-term effects will be more so.

The fact that pregnant women were told to go get themselves and their babies vaccinated is a huge red flag. Do you even know that getting ethics approval for provisionally approved experimental products on pregnant women and infants is a nightmare. So how come this was all ok? Follow the money, that will tell the story.

The pharmaceutical contracts for covid vaccines were suppressed from public scrutiny, another red flag.

The TGA allowed all these other experimental mRNA covid vaccines, but suppressed clinical trials for a real protein vaccine CoVAX from an Australian professor.

Small stores were shut down whilst big stores remained open. That was discriminatory.

Businesses were harassed by covid police checking vaccine passports and mask wearing.

I watched covid police harass and injure a young female protestor who was not breaking any covid rules, just because she was carrying a sign and wearing an anti-lockdown slogan shirt. That was criminal assault and abuse of police powers.

I watched video footage of Australian police opening fire on unarmed, non-violent protestors... Disgraceful. The police can never be trusted again. Those covid fines were unlawful and a revenue raising venture where governments have become a disgraceful burden to the general population.

I was subjected to vexatious complaints and bullying in my workplace because of my views against governments imposing experimental medical treatments on the population by coercion and blocking those who declined from accessing goods, services and employment.

I refused to download the covid tracking app, and this was supposed to be a requirement for all workplaces to report. Ridiculous since we all have our own timesheets and other workplace records.

I was harassed by a worker at a fish and chips shop because I refused to use the app and said I would sign in only on a written register. I soundly put her in her place, and then complained about the poor quality food and service.

I was required to upload covid vaccination status to continue to provide emergency dental services to public patients on the oral health fee for service scheme, despite there being an exemption for provision of emergency services. I refused to do that, so all that happened is that I stopped seeing public patients, so they suffered until they could find someone else [REDACTED].

My [REDACTED] had a heart attack from a blood clot days after a covid booster.

A close friend of one of my dental assistants had a heart attack within weeks of taking a covid shot.

A friend from dancing has myocarditis and long covid after being vaccinated with Covid-19 vaccines.

Numerous patients reported to me that they had various complications or caught covid after they had covid shots.

I watched footage of many athletes known to have taken covid vaccines collapsing from heart conditions in record numbers during games, and many later dying.

I've seen online testimonials from hundreds of thousands of people who have taken Covid-19 vaccines and been injured by them, or had loved ones who have died suddenly.

Health workers were not mandated for covid shots until over Christmas break 2021 which made respite impossible, because I spent Christmas day writing an ICAC complaint about Brad Hazzard [REDACTED]
[REDACTED], or else be locked out of society.

The covid vaccines have been reported to DAEN with more vaccine injuries in the first few months of rollout, than all other vaccines combined since the database started. The covid vaccines failed to prevent infection and transmission of covid, thus failing to be vaccines. They also did not reduce severity of infection, they caused it as a vaccine injury. NSW health data also demonstrated that the more vaccinated were more likely to get covid and die from it, and still Kerry Chant was on tv saying, safe and effective, it's working... [REDACTED]

It caused irreparable harm to people who were vaccinated and to people who weren't vaccinated and this whole episode has highlighted that governments should not be making health decisions for individuals with a one size fits all approach, nor discriminating against those of us who actually do know better!

I was refused service for not wearing a mask in a pub where people were sitting at tables not wearing masks... more stupidity.

Masks do not stop viruses, they are not rated to stop virus transmission, it even says so on the box. They do become porous with moisture after 20mins use and are designed to be single use disposable items.

I had patients who came in and told me they'd been wearing the same mask the whole time throughout the pandemic. Some because they didn't have spare money to pay for masks, some because they didn't know any better. Wearing a dirty face [REDACTED] for months on end is a recipe for aspergillus and pneumonia. Masks in the hands of untrained public was a disaster. They had no idea of infection control and littered the environment with them. There were no contaminated waste bins for people to put this contaminated clinical waste either.

Drivers of vehicles wearing masks is not safe either. Masks cause rebreathing of carbon dioxide waste and this causes defective cognition and bad decision making skills. This combined with officials being on the take, is probably why so many bad decisions were made during covid. Masks were a bad decision. A large danish study showed that masks were useless.

The ice-skating rink I used to attend started discriminating against unvaccinated students and even unvaccinated parents who didn't even go inside the rink, by asking them to have to come inside and show their vaccine passports when picking up their kids from skating. That was total nonsense.

For a brief period of time, everyone was allowed back at the rink, gyms and yoga, but then the vaccines came to market and everything was closed to the unvaccinated, which was discrimination and coercion.

There were vouchers issued for a stimulus plan, but due to vaccine passports, you couldn't use them if you weren't vaccinated.

There is still a requirement for consideration to positions on health boards that applicants be vaccinated for Covid-19. This is discriminatory. Especially since these covid vaccines do not work and aren't safe.

Natural real pandemics are over in about 3-4months, this one is propaganda that has dragged out over 3-4years, and the long covid is actually vaccine injury because they weren't vaccinated, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

There was complete censorship of the other side of the debate regarding vaccines and treatments. The very doctors who are under oath to do no harm, were harming patients. Doctors and patients were harmd by AHPRA who is meant to be an administrative body to register practitioners, not tell them how to practice. Doctors should not have been restricted and censored from treating their patients and providing full informed consent which would mean advising of DAEN statistics for experimental [REDACTED] shots, under threat of being deregistered.

I find it not credible that a vaccine for a supposedly new disease can be produced in one year, when so many other diseases have no treatments or vaccines. It's a bad joke. The mumps vaccine took 4 years.

Overall, the measures used to 'flatten the curve', 'stay safe', 'stop the spread' etc actually caused more harm. It was almost as if government actively sought to harm people, especially those who did not comply. It was utterly ridiculous, terrifying and an abuse of power. Underpinning it all is corruption and money, because that's nearly always the motive. It was never about a virus or about health. It's been a total disgrace and very un-Australian.

The government had to hire crisis actors to pretend they had covid in order to promote vaccines... Like ridiculous.

I watched [REDACTED] when [REDACTED] should have known full well that the vaccines did not prevent infection or transmission. They were never even tested for transmission. [REDACTED]

Also, the vaccine product that was tested in clinical trials was not what was produced for market, and there was variation and contamination in different batches. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Many people were and still are displaced by covid discrimination. It's not reparable and recovery is impossible. The vaccinated [REDACTED] and in the years to follow, there will be ongoing consequences from that. [REDACTED]

I do like the trolley wipes at the supermarket though, [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

Recognising that we are breathing all the air that was on the other side of the planet 24hours ago, there's no stopping anything, it can jump continents. Bushfire ash from Australia landed in South America, and radioactive waste from Fukushima washed up on USA shores.

We all would have done better to do the following:

Get plenty of sunlight, exercise and go out of toxic enclosed environments and breathe to improve our immune systems.

Improve hygiene and nutrition.

Protect the elderly and vulnerable.

Not take experimental vaccines.

Not suppress viable treatment.

Not sign pharmaceutical contracts [REDACTED]

Not censor and restrict doctors and other health practitioners from providing treatments and updated advice to patients.

Carry on business as usual but with higher level of social responsibility to self-quarantine only when sick, not for 3- 4 years of total confusion and mayhem.

Stop funding production

Do not give over pandemic treaty powers to WHO. Especially since everyone got covid and there's about 20% excess death globally

Never mandate any medical treatment, especially experimental.
