

Points for consideration during the COVID-19 Response Inquiry:

- The wasteful spending of the government in purchasing hundreds of millions of doses of vaccines – far more than they needed and of which over half were never used and disposed of. And not being transparent about the details of the contracts involved in those purchases.
- The refusal of the government to pass anti-discrimination legislation to protect employees from being terminated on the basis of their vaccination status.
- The pathetic treatment of vaccine injured in terms of refusing to acknowledge their injuries and offer treatment/compensation due to the deliberately narrow nature of the Federal Scheme which is completely inadequate.
- The government's deliberate attempt to mislead the population by selectively banning/shutting down social media discussions/publications/media which did not suit their agenda, by labelling them 'misinformation' - including published medical studies and data/opinions from medical experts which we now know to be true.
- The government's lack of intervention to protect medical experts from losing their medical licences for voicing their medical opinion/advice if it did not agree with the government's opinion.
- The inaccurate/misleading method of compiling statistics for 'Covid deaths' and 'vaccine injuries' – by choosing definitions/methods for these terms which deliberately inflated/deflated actual numbers so that the government could manipulate public opinion on the pandemic and the response program.
