

I would like to take the opportunity to state my opposition to all proposed changes to WHO and our rights to Personal discretion in who shares and what is shared about a patient. Our right to say whether a Health /Id digital identity is passed. I disagree with this breach of fairness that no referendums are being sought on very important matters that affect individuals and Australia as a whole country. We should have the right to say “No!” No to being jabbed by anything as a personal right of law. We should have a right to make the choice to move freely in community without Government regulating when a member of the community is allowed to leave their houses and without the threat of arrest. We should have the right to Free Speech unless it incites hatred or violence. We should not be censored and freedom of the press and all information should be a given. We the people have our rights. We elect our government. We decide what's in Australia's best interests and retaining personal power is first.

Thank you 🌐 Yours Faithfully
