

This should be a royal commission (not just an inquiry). The terms of reference should include actions taken by state governments.