

I am a resilient of metropolitan Melbourne. My submission is to explain why the government needs to stay out of the populations individual health choices. Never again have lockdowns, never again have mandated health medications or measure. Leave it up to us to decide what is best in consultation with our health professionals.

Governance including the role of the Commonwealth Government, responsibilities of state and territory governments, national governance mechanisms (such as National Cabinet, the National Coordination Mechanism and the Australian Health Protection Principal Committee) and advisory bodies supporting responses to COVID-19.

The Federal government should have intervened when it came to different states responding differently to the same virus. The fact the Victorians were one of the most locked down places for the same virus (as the rest of the country) is madness. Why was it allowed that Victorians were so badly treated and the children were not in their schools- when other states were is so maddening, I can lot express it in words. My children – along with other Victorian children had their education put on hold.

- Key health response measures (for example across COVID-19 vaccinations and treatments, key medical supplies such as personal protective equipment, quarantine facilities, and public health messaging).

The vaccine mandate was barbaric. The fact that Australia forced a vaccine on people is still astounding to me. The choice was – take it, or you can not go to shops, library's (a government free service that our taxes pay for), let alone our jobs- our right to earn money- unless we take an injection that the government deems, we must. NOW we know that injection did not stop transmission, did not lessen the severity of Covid and did not save lives. We now know-as I did then- that the injection – even if it did what it promised- which it did not, that Covid was not a danger to a healthy adult or child. SO why was it mandated. Criminal act. You want my opinion on future health issues. Leave it up to individuals as to what we put in our bodies – not government. I choose to live a healthy life so I ca have a strong immune. Government do not get to choose what I put in my body. And regarding my children- there was a period when my son was not allowed to participate in his outside activities because he did not have this pointless injection. An injection that he did not need and if he did take increased his risk of long-term heart issues like pericarditis. Then the government supported the TGA's decision to ban perfectly good medications, that have now had that ban lifted, that could have helped those with immune compromised health issues. All so the TGA could get a emergency use for its pointless
