

- 1) How can the government be taken seriously when it has only given the plebs one weeks' notice to prepare and submit submissions?
- 2) Why do the terms of reference of this "enquiry" exclude all state actions - including vaccine mandates, state border closures, lockdowns, quarantine, and check-in rules? As Australians, we are entitled to know about these items, yet the Australian government treats its citizens with utter contempt by withholding information such as this. This clearly proves that the government does not care what we think.
- 3) The Australian federal government purchased approximately 255 million covid vaccine doses, however, as Australia's population is slightly more than 26 million, this equates to 10 jabs for every Australian – the maximum dosage prescribed in Australia is five. Why does it appear to be normal practice for the government to waste our money?
- 4) Why did the Victorian government health department delete data from its website data that showed the number of deaths in previous years that were caused by influenza were almost identical to those "caused" by covid shortly after it emerged?
- 5) How can it possibly be conceived as "fair" when governments forced employers to waste their time and money to maintain a record of employee vaccinations etc, then at a later period to again force employers to destroy these records, despite regulations stating that they were only intended to operate for 12 months?
